Homework – Extension Tasks

The screenshot shows the website of Oaklands Catholic School and Sixth form College. The navigation menu includes 'CURRICULUM', 'HOMEWORK – ENRICHMENT KS3' (circled in red), 'ACADEMIC TRIPS', and 'ASSESSMENT'. The page title is 'HOMEWORK ENRICHMENT KEY STAGE 3'. The text explains that homework refers to tasks given to students by their teachers to be completed outside of school. It mentions that all students at Oaklands have a homework timetable and that homework activities vary significantly, including reading activities, longer projects or essays, and more directed and focused work such as revision. It also notes that the definition includes activities such as 'homework clubs' where students have the opportunity to prepare at home for classroom discussion and application of 'flipped learning' models. It states that it is not unusual for some students to say they have too much homework or for some parents to please contact the school. Some students will naturally enjoy a task and are happy to spend time on it. It concludes that at Key stage 3 each department provides a range of extension tasks. These can be found by following the links on the schools web page. The links listed are Religious Education, Science, and Maths.

HOMEWORK ENRICHMENT KEY STAGE 3

Homework refers to tasks given to students by their teachers to be completed outside of school.

All students at Oaklands have a homework timetable. Homework activities vary significantly, including reading activities, longer projects or essays and more directed and focused work such as revision.

Our definition also includes activities such as 'homework clubs' where students have the opportunity to prepare at home for classroom discussion and application of 'flipped learning' models, where students prepare at home for classroom discussion and application.

It is not unusual for some students to say they have too much homework or for some parents to please contact the school. Some students will naturally enjoy a task and are happy to spend time on it.

At Key stage 3 each department provides a range of extension tasks. These can be found by following the links on the schools web page.

- ▶ At Key stage 3 each department provides a range of extension tasks.
- ▶ These can be found by following the links on the schools web page.
- ▶ The tasks support the curriculum. If you want your child to do a little extra or they are at home but well enough to work (eg a broken leg) this is a good starting point
